BIOGRAPHY

Lindokuhle Mbambo is a dynamic and versatile performing artist from Ntuzuma, Durban, whose work spans theatre, film, and live performance. A multi-talented creative, he is an accomplished actor, singer, dancer, percussionist, filmmaker, and music director, known for his powerful stage presence and ability to move seamlessly between disciplines.

Lindokuhle began building his performance career in 2018 with Nandi The Musical in Durban, where he showcased his skills as an actor, singer, and percussionist. His dedication to the craft quickly set him apart, leading to critical recognition in 2022 when he won Best Actor at the Insika Theatre Festival for his role in Isililo Samadoda.

His work in theatre continued to evolve, and in 2025 he played a multifaceted role in Am I A Hero at the Playhouse Company, contributing not only as an actor and singer, but also as a choreographer and music director — demonstrating his strength as both a performer and creative leader.

Beyond acting, Lindokuhle has established himself as a respected music director, singer, and percussionist in major productions and live performances. His credits include Isi'Manje Dance Musical (2020), Comdeboo (2024) and I Was Told (2025) at the National Arts Festival in Makhanda, Le Eyabantu Music Concert (2025), Behind Her Mic Musical (2026), and The Cursed Travellers (2026). His work in these productions highlights his ability to shape sound, rhythm, and storytelling in compelling ways.

In film and television, Lindokuhle has expanded his reach as an actor, appearing as a background performer on the popular South African television series Uzalo and taking on a lead role in The Request Documentary (2025) on DStv. He has also featured in a music video for Hloniphani Art, further showcasing his on-screen presence.

His creative journey is also grounded in technical experience, having worked as a camera intern on EHostela Season 1 and as a behind-the-scenes photographer on Duncan's Sikelela music video. This behind-the-camera exposure informs his holistic understanding of storytelling and production.

Currently, Lindokuhle continues to grow his artistic footprint, working closely with artists such as Hloniphani Art, Ndabezinhle Mntungwa, and Buhle Mabanga as a music director, singer, and percussionist. His work is driven by a passion for authentic storytelling, cultural expression, and artistic excellence, positioning him as a rising force in South Africa's creative industry.
